

High School

Home Connection

Action Planning

Dear _____,

Today in class, we worked together to solve a community problem using flexible thinking. We learned that Community service projects are organized events where a group gets together to help others. We were reminded that flexible thinking connects us with unconventional solutions to conventional problems.

Please encourage your student to share a problem that a family member might have solved within the community using flexible thinking.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions or concerns.

Best,
