Dear _____,

I'm excited to share that your student has been learning about diversity and empathy in class. They explored how diversity encompasses many differences, including opinions, values, and interests, and how understanding these differences can help us see things from another person's perspective. This lesson focused on the importance of empathy—putting ourselves in someone else's shoes—to foster better understanding and communication.

Please discuss this question with your student: How do you think looking at a situation from someone else's perspective could be helpful? This will help reinforce their learning about empathy and the value of diverse perspectives.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions or concerns.

Best regards,
