Consequences of Peer Pressure

Directions: Individually or with a partner, review each of the scenarios below and determine which consequence might apply. Be prepared to share with the class.

Scenario	Type of Peer Pressure
1. A friend suggests that to keep the person you are dating interested, you should send them some naked pictures because everyone is doing it.
2. On social media, you see more and more of your friends posting pictures of themselves drinking and smoking. You begin to wonder if you should do that too.
3. You hang out with some pretty athletic people and they've been pressuring you to enter the 10km run with them.
4. You're studying in the library with your friends and they start talking about the Ivy League colleges that they're considering applying to. You realize that you cannot afford to go to a college like that unless you get a scholarship.
5. You go shopping with your friends. They're spending money on some pretty fancy tennis shoes. They tell you that these shoes are the only thing that anyone will be wearing this year. You don't think your parents will buy them for you.
